

Payroll giving

Heart Research UK is the charity dedicated to your heart. Our mission is to reduce the number of people developing and dying from heart disease, whilst improving and extending the lives of those affected.

Through payroll giving, employees and employers will be helping us achieve our mission by supporting our vital work.

What is payroll giving?

Payroll giving is a flexible and easy way for you to make a regular donation to Heart Research UK from your pre-tax salary. As your donation is taken out before tax, a £10 per month donation will only cost you £8 as a 20% tax payer, or just £6 as a 40% tax payer.

Be a 9-5 Heart Hero

Donating through your pay is tax-efficient, easy and secure. Regular donations from sources like payroll giving schemes provide a regular source of income for Heart Research UK and allows us to plan for the long-term.

Changing Jobs?

It's useful to know that if you change your job or your working situation changes, your donation to us will automatically stop when you leave. If you would like to continue donating from your salary in your new position, please let your new payroll department know.

Why support Heart Research UK through Payroll Giving?

Coronary heart disease is one of the UK's single biggest killers. We know research works, but the 7.6 million people living with cardiovascular disease in the UK need it to work faster.

What are the benefits for you as an employer?

- Include payroll giving as part of your workplace benefits
- Employers that offer a payroll giving scheme are eligible to receive a quality mark, based on uptake rates for your scheme. The Government supported scheme recognises organisations that offer payroll giving with a quality mark to celebrate and publicise their success to employees, clients, customers and other stakeholders

What can you do now?

Speak to your workplace Payroll Team to find out if they have a Payroll Giving Scheme in place. A charitable donation is no different from any other deduction from pay. The main step is for your employer to sign up with a Payroll Giving Agency.
